NOVENCO

SCHAKO Group

Leader in efficient fan technologies

NOVENCO® Building & Industry develops world-leading fan technologies for buildings and industries worldwide. With decades of engineering expertise, we deliver reliable, high-performance solutions with low energy consumption. Our systems set new standards in environmentally responsible ventilation and provide advanced life safety performance that ensures protection and compliance in all building and industrial environments.

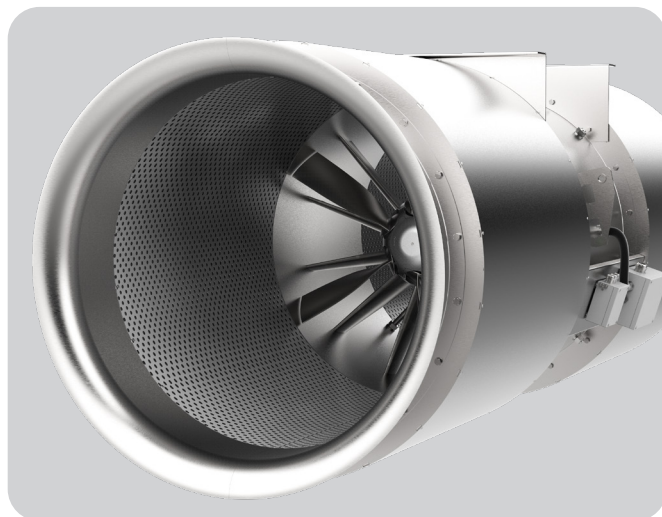

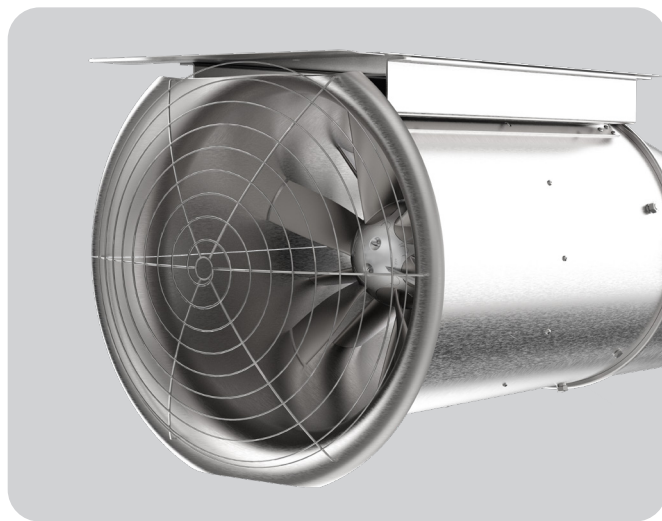

Our key segments

We design and deliver energy-efficient ventilation for all types of buildings and industries. The core businesses include data centres, where our cutting-edge cooling technology delivers exceptional energy efficiency; car parks and tunnels, where reliability is crucial and life-saving; and pressure differential systems for high-rises that provide comfort and protection of people and property.

Our fan technologies

Our product range covers every ventilation need - from powerful axial fans and ATEX-certified units to high-temperature smoke fans, centrifugal fans, car park and tunnel fans, all with a full range of accessories.

Driving excellence in global sustainability

At NOVENCO® Building & Industry, we take pride in driving sustainable progress. Our products help projects meet tough standards such as LEED, BREEAM and DGNB. As the world's first fan manufacturer to publish Environmental Product Declarations (EPDs) for axial flow fans, NOVENCO sets a new benchmark for transparency and sustainability.

Our ZerAx® and NovAx™ fans come with independently verified EPDs - providing clear, trusted data on their environmental impact throughout the entire lifecycle.

How we work

At NOVENCO® Building & Industry, we partner with our customers from the first conversation to long-term operation. Our process builds on collaboration, technical excellence and a commitment to responsible performance.

01

Understand

Every project starts with listening. We take time to uncover the specific needs, challenges and goals - ensuring solutions fit seamlessly into the design and performance requirements.

02

Design

Our experts engineer efficient, reliable and energy-saving ventilation systems tailored to each project. From data centres to tunnels and car parks, we optimise details for performance and environmental responsibility.

03

Deliver

We manufacture and supply world-class products backed by decades of innovation and proven quality. Our global logistics network ensures timely delivery and consistent excellence across regions.

04

Support

Our commitment goes beyond the delivery of the products as we provide ongoing support, maintenance and technical guidance - to help maximise efficiency and extend the life of products and systems.

Global presence

With a strong global presence, NOVENCO® Building & Industry delivers reliable support, fast response and proven solutions wherever the projects are - to ensure consistency, quality and expertise worldwide. The NOVENCO headquarters is in Denmark with a subsidiary in the Netherlands and offices in United Kingdom, Germany, Sweden, India, Singapore, Philippines and United States.

Relentless customer focus

Our customers achieve measurable results with NOVENCO® Building & Industry solutions, including significant improvements in energy efficiency and reduced carbon footprints.

Our advanced fan technologies and sustainable designs, help customers across sectors consistently meet performance targets, comply with green-building standards and lower lifetime operating costs.

Trusted by leading companies such as META, Unilever, Carlsberg, Zott and Volkswagen, NOVENCO delivers solutions that combine innovation, reliability and efficiency, helping customers reduce energy use and environmental impact.

Part of the SCHAKO Group

NOVENCO® Building & Industry is part of the SCHAKO Group, where over 1,000 ventilation specialists drive innovation across five leading companies. Together, we deliver high-quality, energy-efficient solutions in ventilation, air conditioning, fire protection and smoke extraction - trusted for reliability and wanted for performance.
